organization and advice on how to take full advantage of being involved.

Our first event of the year - What is ZMOT? It is the Zero Moment of Truth that encompasses the time between consumers' first exposure to advertising for a product and the ultimate purchase decision.

Did you know that when faced with multiple products, the time it takes for a shopper to make a purchase decision between them is usually three to seven seconds? These critical moments are known as the First Moment of Truth (or FMOT), and they determine whether or not all the advertising and promotion marketers have invested will pay off. Thanks to the Internet, another critical moment for consumer/brand interactions is also getting attention: the Zero Moment of Truth (or ZMOT).

Ways to reduce our carbon footprint and contributions to landfill in 2014. Here are a couple of ideas.

Styrofoam Recycling: Block-style Styrofoam may be dropped off in the lobby of the Winnetka Public Works building at 1390 Willow Rd. from 7am - 5pm Mondays - Fridays through Friday, January 10. Neighboring communities are welcome to drop off. Last year the Styrofoam was recycled at Abt, but this year it is being picked up by Dart. The program may continue past January 10. More details to follow. Please spread the word about the program and that ONLY block-style hard Styrofoam is accepted at this time.

Get your business involved in Screen Break 2014.

ScreenBreak 2014 will be here before you know it. The dates are Sunday, March 2 through Saturday, March 8, 2014. This will be the 20th year that our community has celebrated this wonderful week, first as TV Tune Out and now as ScreenBreak. Its purpose is to give families an opportunity to evaluate the role that television and other screens play in their lives and to explore other options. Families may choose to participate in the many alternative activities available throughout the community during the week. They may also decide to engage in activities at home, such as cooking, art, crafts, or reading, or they may enjoy a combination of both.

Your business can be a part of this successful event! The theme for this year is: "Take the ScreenBreak Challenge!"
